Andrew Nickolds, Christopher Douglas : Ed Reardon's Week: The Complete Fourth Series before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Ed Reardon's Week: The Complete Fourth Series:

Ed Reardon (Christopher Douglas) author, pipe smoker, fare-dodger, and master of the abusive email returns for a fourth series. In these six episodes, Ed surprises the literary world by still being alive and finding romance. He also, finally, comes up with a once-in-a-lifetime idea but then loses it. And in the last episode, 'Trimarans That Pass in the Night', love is in the air for Ed. But it's far from plain sailing. Written by Christopher Douglas and Andrew Nickolds, this complete fourth series of Ed Reardon's Week includes guest appearances by Morwenna Banks and Geoffrey McGivern. Ed Reardon's Week was voted Best Radio Programme by the Broadcasting Press Guild. 3 CDs. 3 hrs.

About the Author Christopher Douglas is the author of Jardine, the biography of England test cricketer Andrew Jardine. With Andrew Nickolds, he is the co-creator of Ed Reardon, and stars in Ed Reardon's Week. He also teamed up with Nigel Planer to create the character of Nicholas Craig, a classical actor who starred in the BBC Four series How to be Old with Nicholas Craig and has an autobiography, I, An Actor. Andrew Nickolds' radio credits include Loose Ends, Dave Podmore's Cricket Night, and (with Christopher Douglas) 10 series of Ed Reardon's Week. He is the author of numerous books, including Arthur Daley's Back to Basics, The Word of Pod, and Cabinet Pudding. He writes a column as Ed Reardon for The Oldie, and one as Dave Podmore.
