From G. Schirmer : Elegy: Snow in June: Concerto for Violoncello and Four Percussionists (Ensemble) before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Elegy: Snow in June: Concerto for Violoncello and Four Percussionists (Ensemble):

(Ensemble). This work is a set of free variations drawn from a 13th-century Chinese drama by Kuan Han-Ching. The complex cello and percussion writing focuses on the timbres, textures and fiddling techniques of Chinese ritual music and Ghost opera.
