The image shows a page of sheet music for the song "1. Spring" from "The Oxford Choral Songs" by Vaughan Williams. The title "The Oxford Choral Songs" is at the top, followed by "OXFORD UNIVERSITY PRESS • NEW YORK AND OXFORD". Below that, it says "Dedicated to L. H. M. C. Children's Division" and "THREE CHILDREN'S SONGS for Unison Chorus and Piano". The composer's name "R. VAUGHAN WILLIAMS" is on the right, and "FRANCES M. FARRER" is on the left. The title "1. Spring" is centered. The tempo is marked "Allegretto". The score is for "VOICES" and "PIANO". The lyrics are: "When Sum - mer dons her dress of green, And all the land is bathed in sun: Down by the brook the wil - lows lean And". The score includes a piano introduction and two vocal lines. At the bottom, there is a copyright notice: "Words registered by kind permission. Copyright, 1930, by the Oxford University Press, London. Renewed in U.S.A. 1958. Printed in U.S.A."

From Oxford University Press : Spring: Vocal score before purchasing it in order to gauge whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Spring: Vocal score:

for unison voices and piano No. 1 of Three Children's Songs

About the Author In the fifty years since his death, Vaughan Williams has come to be regarded as one of the finest British composers of the 20th century. He has a particularly wide-ranging catalogue of works, including choral works, symphonies, concerti, and opera. His searching and visionary imagination, combined with a flexibility in writing for all levels of music-making, has meant that his music is as popular today as it ever has been.
